Jean Ritchie, Who "Covered" The Fire At Helicon Hall, Knew "Uppie" As Well As "Hal" - Here's Her Story

By JEAN RITCHIE

The death of Sinclair Lewis has called to mind his days in old Carmel.

Bert Heron says "for some obscure reason, we called him Hal or Red. Not so obscure when 'Hal' he was until after finishing at Yale, 1901, he joined Upton Sinclair's Home Colony in Englewood, New Jersey. Out of his devotion to Sinclair he chose the pen name of Sinclair Lewis.

Upton Sinclair after investigating the Chicago stock yards had written a best-seller, The Jungle. With the proceeds he founded what he fondly believed a modern Utopia that consisted of a colony of twenty or more persons living together as one big family, share and share alike in both work, ideas and play. He bought the beautiful building in Englewood which had formerly been a school for boys.

To Englewood the place was known as a Free Love Colony and caused curiosity. Life at Helicon Hall consisted of much work on the part of some; fantastic, shall we say, play and parties by others. To my mind Upton Sinclair was the only idealist in the group.

Among some of the number were the Edwin Bjorkmans; the Ed Potters (Mr. Potter owned a news bureau in Manhattan); a couple of Columbia professors, one of whom advocated "group living", meaning four couples to a household, share and share alike; Alice MacGowan and Grace MacGowan Cooke, with the youngsters, Helen and Kit. Also Michael Williams, who in 1926 wrote Little Flower of Carmel; and many other writers, illustrators, and would-be professionals.

At four o'clock one snowy morning in March, 1907 all hell broke loose at Helicon Hall. Fire was practically gutting the place before anyone awoke. There was a mad scramble for doors and windows, some escaping from the second story by sliding down the Ionic columns. The MacGowan sisters were in the hospital for some time suffering from splinters in various parts of their anatomy. One woman, sleeping in the raw, was seen to have escaped in a string of amber beads. Only one death resulted—that of an old man who slept in the basement and tended the furnace.

Had it not been for that death (Continued on Page Four)

Carl Patnude Is Named As March Of Dimes Chairman

Carl Patnude has been named as Carmel chairman for the March of Dimes campaign by Boyd Beall, Peninsula chairman, and residents are asked to contribute even more this year for this urgently needed work.

Dime boxes are being placed in local stores, restaurants, bars and hotels. This year's theme is Lend Me A Hand. Assisting Patnude here will be Jack Martin.

County president is Police Judge C. S. Sorensen of Salinas, while Clyde Dyke is head in Pacific Grove and George (Sarge) Cunningham, chairman in Seaside.

Emergency cases last year depleted county funds, and more than $1,100 was spent in this area alone. Beall said this week that the need for funds is vital and urged everyone to contribute.

Czech Refugee To Lecture Jan. 26

Miroslav Kerner, former official of the Republic of Czechoslovakia, will be the speaker Friday night, January 26, at Sunset Auditorium under the sponsorship of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula. The program is a presentation of the Carmel Adult School and will begin at 8 o'clock. The public is invited and admission is free.

There will be a half hour organizational meeting before the program in Room 11 of the school and officers for the coming year will be elected.

Dr. Kerner was active in the political life of his country and was known as an opponent of communism. He fled Czechoslovakia when the Communists took over in 1948 and made his way to the American Zone of Germany. There he was active with relief organizations. He came to the United States in 1949, and he has been lecturing here extensively.

Redistricting For Peninsula College Is Meeting Topic

Representatives of the Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove school districts met Tuesday night at the Monterey Peninsula College for an unofficial discussion of the possibility of incorporating the three communities of a college district.

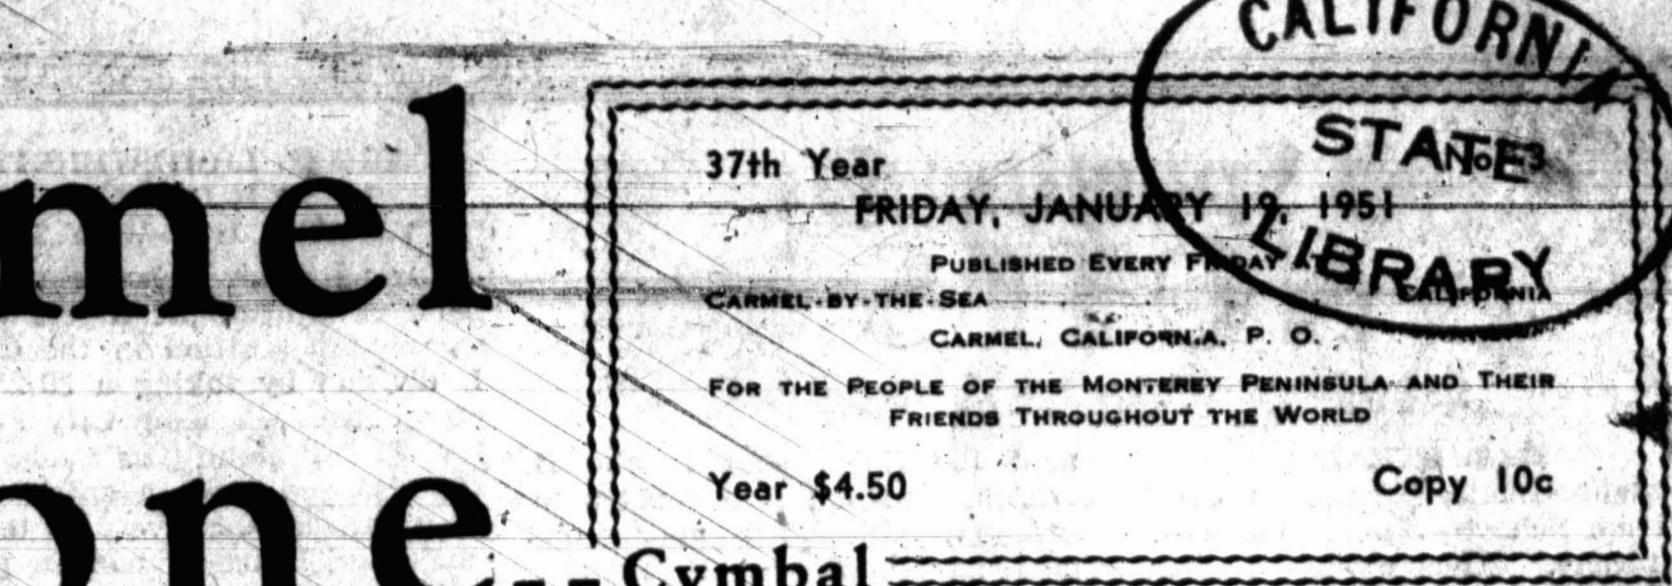

The three school boards will be sounded out at a later date to ascertain whether they wish a survey of the situation. J. O. Handley, representing Carmel said at the meeting that he could not vote for such a survey inasmuch as he did not know at the time of the sentiments of the board as a whole upon the matter. February 27 was set as the date for the meeting to decide upon such a survey.

Conducting the meeting was Will Hatton, chairman of the County Committee on School District Organization. Others present were Miss Gladys Stone, County Superintendent of Schools and Emmett R. Berry of the State Department of Education.

Carmel Unincorporated Officers Re-Elected

With the exception of the secretary, all officers of Carmel Unincorporated were reelected at the first meeting of the year held Tuesday at the Carmel Woman's Club.

Mrs. Cameron Edgar, former secretary, did not run for office, and her place was taken by Mrs. Helen Lambert. Other officers are: Capt. Archer M. R. Allen, president; Dr. A. L. Van Meter, first vice president; Ritter Holman, second vice president and William Eklund, treasurer.

Cymbal

Carole Larsen, soprano, will be presented as guest artist at a concert Sunday, Jan. 28, at the Carmel Woman's Club at 3:30 by the Musical Art Club. She is a student at San Francisco State College and she will be accompanied by her teacher, Otto Schulmann.

Miss Larsen, who is 19, has appeared in concerts for the San Jose and Santa Cruz music associations. Last year she won a scholarship over students from four states to attend the Arrowhead Music Camp in Los Angeles. Critics predict a brilliant future for her.

Hunt and Peck

By BETH INGELS

Animals are in the news again this week. First, there is the mysterious poisoning of pigeons in San Francisco's Union Square and pigeon enthusiasts have promised that all hell will break loose if it is not stopped. Next, there is a dog poisoner in the Oak Grove area, with a number of cats and dogs being reported victims. Hanging would be too good for that person, when or if, found. But third, there is Carmel's latest mystery.

That of the carrier pigeon who arrived on the roof of one of the Lobos Lodge Cottages and, having reached his destination, expired.

This pigeon, whose name was not given, wore a band on one leg and an empty message cartridge on the other. Betty Horst, manager of the Lodge, reported the matter to Carmel police, and the pigeon fanciers there decided that he died from old age. That may or may not be true. I am no ornithologist, but basing my conclusions on what little knowledge I do possess on the subject, I am hazarding a guess right now that pigeons don't have teeth. And having no teeth, how in the world could you guess its age? And what is old age for a pigeon, anyway? If I were appointed on the job as a sleuth I would ask Betty Horst who has been trying to get messages to her by carrier pigeon. And, knowing Betty, I would say here and now that she would come up with a right good answer. At the moment, the bird is resting over at the Presidio of Monterey in the hands of the military police.

And then there is the case of the people in San Anselmo, Fairfax and Mill Valley who have asked the State Assembly that they be granted permission to arm themselves against deer that seem to be bothering them. They complain

FIRE ALARM TEST

When the local citizenry hear a blast of horns tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock, they are asked not to be alarmed. The noise will be that of testing horns for use as fire signals and air-raid alarms. Horns will be tested instead of sirens, it is announced by Fire Chief Vincent Torres, to ascertain their effectiveness. Due to a local peculiarity, sirens are not heard in some sections of the town, when they can be heard several miles away in areas where they are not needed. It is possible that horns will prove more effective.

Meanwhile, the present siren is still not in working order, and the siren on the large truck is used as an emergency measure and until the situation can be taken care of.

Figures Over One Million For Building

More than a million and a quarter dollars were spent in new building and remodeling in the City of Carmel last year, according to Building Inspector Floyd Adams. This amount was exceeded only once before, in 1948, when the total spent was $1,454,550. Total for 1950 was $1,262,479.

Last year, 66 new residences were constructed for a total of $671,810, while 11 new commercial buildings went up at a cost of $265,497. For remodeling and repair, there were 107 permits granted for $144,215, and 15 commercial permits for $17,044. Two new public buildings, the Youth Center and All Saints' Episcopal Church came to a total of $163,913.

Highest number of building permits to be issued in the last decade was in 1941, just before the war, when 203 were granted, for a total of $575,542. The figure is explained by the much lower cost in building materials at that time.

Other annual figures are: 1949, 172 permits for $717,980; 1947, 193 permits for $929,272 and 1946, 135 for $559,307. Building was curtailed during the war years.

A great deal of construction has already been begun this year in the city limits and also in its environs, and it is expected that, barring war, the initial figure may exceed that of 1950.

Committee Studies Neill And Bestor's Drainage Report

The report on Carmel's drainage problem by the firm of Neill and Bestor was studied at a meeting Tuesday afternoon by the committee appointed by Mayor Allen Knight. Those present were Chairman John S. Chitwood, Countess Claude Kinnoull, Clayton Neill, William Askew and Floyd Adams.

After reading the report and studying the maps and photographs, it was decided to ask the advise of City Attorney Thomas K. Perry on legal procedure and also to ask for a joint meeting with the city council and the planning commission on the matter of policy and future action.

There was some discussion of adopting the report as a master plan but this matter will be decided later. Whether property owners would be forced to pay for improvements was another topic under discussion and this important point will be gone into later at the general meeting.

P.T.A. MEETING

The topic for Carmel High School P.T.A. discussion will be Is Our High School Program Realistic in the World of Today and Tomorrow, at the meeting to be held on January 25, 8 p.m. In the school library.

William McCreary, assistant supervisor of occupational information and guidance in Sacramento, will speak on the trades and skills that are needed by society and Ian Belangee, vice principal and coordinator of grade and industrial education will tell what the school is going to do to prepare the student for these trades and skills.

Sporting NOTES

BASKETBALL

Tonight—Boulder Creek at Carmel High School—7 p.m. (League). Saturday, January 20—Salinas High at Carmel, 7 p.m. Monday—Adult Practice Session, high school gym, 7:30-10 p.m. Wednesday—Youth Center Organized play, 6:30-9 p.m.

BADMINTON

Tuesday and Thursday—Adults, high school gym, 7:30-10 p.m.

FOLK DANCING

Tuesday and Thursday—High school cafeteria, 7-10 p.m.

BOULDER CREEK QUINTET PLAYS CARMEL TONIGHT

In previous basketball sessions, whenever Boulder Creek appeared on the schedule a victory was automatically chalked up for the team meeting the Cougars. However, a change has come over the mountain boys this year, and they are the most feared aggregation in the B division of the CCAL. Carmel fans will have an opportunity to see the smooth working BC lads in action at the Carmel gym tonight where they clash with the Padres. Brightest gem on the Cougar squad is Andy Locatelli, left handed 195-pounder, who is rated the finest shot in the B division. This lad is a court-wise veteran who directs the play of the spirited mountaineers. Presswood, a towering center, and Hughes, a driving guard, are also considered top prospects for all-league rating. The Cougars are currently tied for top spot in the league race, sharing the pinnacle with Pacific Grove, and King City. The Padres must upset the high-flying Cougars if they hope to stay in the running for the flag.

The 7 o'clock lightweight clash is of prime importance to Relfe Leavitt's lightweights, as a win will keep them atop the limited division. The Boulder Creek lights gave Pacific Grove a whale of a battle before running out of gas in the final quarter. Coach Leavitt will start his midget-size aggregation of Mike Ricketts, Bob Laugenour, Jerry Colman, Buddy Grant, and Bob Campbell. The addition of Art Schurman has bolstered the Padrecitos and given them some much needed height.

Tomorrow night Russ Lawler and Company from Salinas High School invades the Carmel gym for a repeat performance against the Padres. Carmel figures to give the favored Cowboys a better tussle on the home court, and, if the locals can put the damper on the great Lawler, they may upset the "A" League champs. This boy Lawler, a college performer in prep ranks, has been scoring enough points to whip most high school teams by himself and is considered the best hoopster ever to play in the CCAL.

The Salinas lightweights are also the hottest thing in the A division, having whipped the good Monterey lights in the last start. With Carmel leading the B League and Salinas tops in the A, tomorrow night's prelim should be the thing.

"GUSSIE" MORAN TO PLAY AT PEBBLE BEACH

Bobby Riggs is bringing his glamorous 1951 Tennis Tour to Pebble Beach Saturday afternoon, January 27.

"Gussie" Moran—she of the lace panties—and Pauline "Bobby" Betz, former national net queen; Pancho Segura, the colorful little Ecuadorian with the unorthodox two-handed forehand, and Jack Kramer, the greatest tennis player in the world today, are on the schedule for the Pebble Beach tennis courts Saturday, January 27, at 1:30 p.m.

Riggs summed up his tour when he said, "We're selling more than tennis, although we're offering the finest tennis being played. We're selling entertainment. This is a show, and we're doing our best to make it a good one. We want people to enjoy themselves."

Tickets are on sale at the Pebble Beach Tennis Courts; Bud Giles Men's Wear in Pacific Grove; Pine Inn, Carmel; and Rasmussen & Moody, Monterey. A limited number of reserved seats are available, according to John Gardner, who is in charge of local arrangements for the event. Telephone 7-6055 for further information.

CARMEL LIGHTWEIGHTS LEAD B DIVISION; VARSITY IN 3-WAY TIE

Carmel High School's scrappy band of lightweight cagers clung to the top position in the CCAL B division by taking a 30-23 decision from the King City Ponies last Friday night. The Padre varsity dropped down a notch when they lost a 30-26 verdict to the Mustangs. Butch Laugenour pushed through 13 markers to pace the Carmel Babes in the scoring department, but it was the fine clutch playing of Art Schurman that supplied the winning punch. Closely pressed by the underdog Ponies in the fourth quarter the Padrecitos breathed easier as Art mashed a pair of field goals and did a fine job of retrieving the rebounds.

Carmel's varsity matched the Mustangs field goal for field goal but the King City lads were sharper at the free throw line. Niels Reimers mashed four field goals in the last half to lead the Padre scorers. The lanky Niels, out with injuries during the first part of the season, is rapidly rounding into form and should bolster the varsity's inept scoring punch.

In other B division games last week Pacific Grove took a pair from Boulder Creek, and Gonzales copped two from Hollister. Tonight Gonzales takes on Pacific Grove, King City tangles with Hollister and Boulder Creek invades Carmel.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Folks on the Peninsula who haven't taken the time to cop a look at the Frost Roofers basketball team are missing a bet in artistic casablanca action. This gang plays college caliber ball and they have just about played themselves out of competition around this area. Top hands in the Frost aggregation will perform against the Santa Barbara All-Americans when they appear at the Carmel gym for the Youth Center benefit. Date for this classic: Saturday, February 3. Live Oak High School (Morgan Hill) will meet the Carmel preps in preliminary games to the All-Star fracas. The Padres, after taking a severe licking from Salinas, nearly upset Live Oak last Wednesday afternoon.

The Live Oak quintet is the only high school team to beat the powerful Cowboys this season. Final score of the Carmel-Live Oak tussle: Live Oak 36, Carmel 34; close enough. A high-scoring center named Labrucherie swished through 21 points to plague the Padres. The Padre Babes were also scuttled by an individual performance, as a Morgan Hill dead-eye poured through 27 points to pace the Live Oak lights to a 45-33 verdict.

The Youth Center kids basketball league gets underway next Wednesday with the same teams participating as took part in the touch football league. Two teams from the eighth grade, Sunset all-stars, and Junipero Serra. Jack Gileo, Youth Center director, will have the guiding hand in back of the league.

. . . In 11 years of competition, the Gilroy Mustangs have never defeated a Carmel High School varsity quintet. Come mighty close several times, however . . . Gilroy has a fine lightweight team this year, having taken the measure of the little Padres twice. Last Friday night by a 28-20 margin. Carmel's varsity tripped the Gilroy heavies, 32 to 25 . . . Lots of classy basketball on parade at the Carmel gym tonight and tomorrow night. The peppy Boulder Creek gang will attempt to eliminate the Padres from championship contention in tonight's fracas, and Carmel fans can get a look at the fabulous Lawler when the Padres try to even the score with Salinas tomorrow night. Lightweight games start at 7 o'clock on both nights.

BYRON NELSON WINS BEST-EVER CROSBY TOURNEY

How good can a golf tournament get? Each year, golfers and gallery proclaim the current tourney to be the finest and this year was no exception. Blessed by perfect weather and a courteous record-breaking gallery, the 1951 Crosby tournament netted nearly $40,000 for Peninsula charities.

Big news of the week is that O'KEEFFE'S (on Dolores Street where Gump's use to be) is going to carry the same line of merchandise Gump's carried. But Walter O'Keeffe is going to add furniture, too. When in the other day we noticed several things we've always wanted . . . those stunning la holla mats, for instance, which come from Samoa and are so suitable for Carmel livingrooms. And Fritz Applanalp wood-sculptures (mainly of driftwood) with those strange, wonderful, Oriental faces which sometimes look like sea-spirits. Oh yes, and handsome stainless steel from Denmark. Can be bought separately or as a set. They have two patterns, one (5 piece place-setting) at $7.75, the other at $8.10. An inexpensive item that intrigued us: Royal Copenhagen butter chips, $1 each. Can be used as coasters, ash-trays or even hung on the wall.

O'KEEFFE'S has stunning Chinese shantung coolie jackets and trousers, too.

Spring-things have come in at MAXINE'S — your guide to fashion — on Dolores Street. They have a beautiful line of slacks, for instance; some Glen plaid, 100% wool, others in gabardine or wool flannel. They're man-tailored, have either a pleated or plain front. And in spring dresses, we saw some wonderful gabardines. Maryland Classics, they come in young, fresh, pastel shades such as off-white, pale lemon-yellow, pale blue, red and rose. They're both long and short-sleeved, style is classic, and come in half-sizes as well as regular sizes. Other Maryland classics for spring: pin-checks in blue, black or brown with long or short sleeves. P.S. The January clearance is still going on at MAXINE'S in fall and winter things.

The January clearance is still going on at THE VILLAGE JEWELERS (On Dolores Street near Sixth), that wonderful little shop which specializes in ear-rings and where everything glitters to fascinate the heart of woman. You'd better hurry if you want to get ear-rings at fabulously low prices. They're closing out a complete line of ear-rings, and there are two groups, one at 50¢ a pair the other at 89¢. Formerly these ear-rings sold at $3.50 and $4.50, so they're really wonderful values. They have all kinds of ear-rings on sale at THE VILLAGE JEWELERS, both dangling ones and the clip-on type. Some are jeweled, others are in gold, silver, etc. And the sale is ending soon!

The good news at SARGANT'S HEALTH & SPECIALTY FOODS (on Sixth between Dolores and San Carlos) is that you can get the whole list of super-foods and vitamins on the pound-a-day reducing diet as suggested in the January issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. They have brewer's yeast, black strap molasses, yogurt, skimmed milk powder and wheat germ (raw). The vitamins are: fish liver oil, ascorbic acid, wheat germ oil and the four minerals (calcium, phosphorus, iodine and iron). All of these super foods and vitamins are recommended on the reducing diet in Gaylord Hauser's best seller, Look Younger and Live Longer. Phone is 7-7753.

An item of great interest to Carmelites who have fireplaces can be found over at HOLMAN'S in the furniture department (third floor). Hassocks are the news! And they're on sale now at $15.95 and $10.95 (formerly $19.95 and $14.95). The hassocks, which are so wonderful to curl up on in front of a blazing fire, come in various shapes — round, square, kidney-shaped — and they're handsomely tailored. Colors are brown, bright red, deep red, chartreuse, deep green, and neutral. Many of them decorator's tones. Covered with plastic, they're washable, can be cleaned with soap and water.

Another intriguing item have you ever wanted to step out of bed onto one of those wonderful, soft, fleecy little sheepskin rugs? They have them at HOLMAN'S, and they're only $13.95. Australian wool, they're sheer luxury.

We saw some of those good-looking shag rugs, too, in all sorts of colors and sizes . . . tan, bright red, scarlet, yellow, chartreuse, pale green, dark green, neutral, etc.

Fresh killed Pekin ducks can be found over at MAC'S POULTRY MARKET on San Carlos near Fifth, and they're only 58 cents a pound! MAC'S also has nice plump roasters, fryers, broilers and fricassee, and if you want to make your roast fowl delicious, try some of their Pepperidge Farm Stuffing! It's epicurean! MAC'S POULTRY has fresh ranch eggs, too, in assorted sizes.

Washable spring cottons are the news over at THE COLLEGIATE DRESS SHOP in Monterey. The January sale on jerseys, cocktail dresses, blouses, and coats is still going on, but Mrs. Brownley didn't wait until it was over to get new spring things in. The spring cottons, which are chic and inexpensive — $7.95 and $8.95 — are Johnny Juniors. We saw one in chartreuse, another in navy with scattered nailheads on the skirt. And one in red poplin with white buttons. Very gay. And, oh yes, a hunter's green with one of those Rogue necklines! Also saw a nice little two-piece cotton in navy with a plain skirt but coin dots on the top; belt is red. This one's $12.95. Lots of other colors and styles!

Over at KAY'S KNITTING KLINIC (at Mission and Fifth) they have a wonderful variety of yarns, including Pingouin, and many unusual colors. They have nylon and rayon yarn as well as wool, and oh yes, they teach knitting! And they do blocking and assembling. Incidentally, they have those intriguing Hawaiian knitting baskets now.

Review Of The Stone Flower

BY FLAVIA FLAVIN

Several years ago a film came to us from Russia called The Stone Flower. A kind of fairy-tale—on the papier-maché side—yet possessed of sweetness and something fresh.

It was previewed at the Carmel Hill Theatre Tuesday afternoon, and will be shown through the coming week.

A fairy-tale in film recalls instantly to the mind of the reviewer

Cocca's enchanting and artful rendering of Beauty and the Beast. The Stone Flower by comparison seems naive and got together rather for children than adults. The color puts one in mind of Walt Disney, and the same is true of the woodland scenes, and those within the Copper Mountain. Tree trunks topple over with cardboard ease—great purple iris spring unnaturally from the ground. The gleaming palace of the Copper Mountain princess does not enchant the eye for it seems on the whole to have been conceived in poor taste—it does not invite to linger. The action of the picture is not flowing but jerky—at times tediously slow.

But this very awkwardness and naivete may well constitute much of the picture's charm. We are taken back in time to Old Russia. To a Nobleman's estate under serfdom. The Nobleman, who resembles one of Godol's characters, lives with his artificial and doll-like wife in a somewhat unbelievable white pillared palace. His peasants live, of course, in wooden izbas, and one of them, a venerable old man, employs his time making ornaments for the pleasure of his master. A master whose principal interest seems to be that his treasures shall outdo those of his acquaintance the Marquis of something in France. Our story concerns two young people and their tender love affair. Danilo is an apprentice to the old copper worker—a young man of genius who lives and dreams in his work. Katya, his betrothed, lives only for Danilo. Bye and bye, on his wedding night, Danilo wanders away to the Copper Mountain, lured there by the Copper Mountain princess who has taken a great fancy to him. She offers him herself and all her riches and for a time Danilo appears to be tempted to remain. But the grand palace grows to pall upon him—he is always thinking of Katya. And Katya is always thinking of him. She has gone to live with the old man and care for him—and she has learned to make little copper things to eke out a living. Although everyone assures her that Danilo is dead Katya will not have it, nor will she consider joining her former playmates in their singing and dancing, nor will she marry again. So one day Katya wanders away also in the direction of the Copper Mountain. The way is opened for her and she rejoins Danilo. The Copper princess at first behaves very fiercely to the two lovers. When she sees, however, that they are fixed in their devotion to each other she suddenly relents and presents them with a most beautiful (hideous) jewel box, telling them that they have been tested and have been found to be true and beyond the temptations of riches and fame. Katya and Danilo are let to go free out of the Copper Mountain—hand in hand into the setting sun.

The richness of the picture comes in the singing and dancing scenes; the wedding scene with its gaiety, and color, and time-honored customs; the troikas dashing madly through the snow, bells jingling; old bearded patriarchs seated around a table, on a sudden

"Religion is the greatest of all means for the establishment of order in the world and for the peaceful contentment of all that dwell therein. The weakening of the pillars of religion hath strengthened the hands of the ignorant and made them bold and arrogant. Verily I say, whatsoever hath lowered the lofty station of religion hath increased the waywardness of the wicked, and the result cannot be but anarchy."

that the deer have been destroying their gardens, but that is not all. One man said that a deer followed his to his parked car, jumped in the back seat and sat there, refusing to move. This man was worried because the deer had an expression on his phiz of great expectancy. Now, this man may have been surprised and possibly worried, but he shouldn't have been. I once knew a deer that loved to ride in cars. In the back seat, always, and his riding companion was an airedale. The two had a wonderful time seeing the sights of the Peninsula. It was only when the deer, which happened to be a boy, began to grow antlers that his owners became worried. Either they would have to get rid of Buck, as he was so suitably named, or they would be forced to cut holes in the roof of the car. With a few to be added each year as he became more mature. So they very decently turned him over to the Alum Rock Park in San Jose, where he probably still is. And maybe the caretaker takes him for a ride in his truck once in awhile. Who knows?

Bob always contended that Mellon wanted to know if I were intelligent enough; I claimed that since Mellon had once told me that I wasn't hardboiled enough for metropolitan newspaper work, he had deliberately sent Bob to see, because he, Bob, was the most susceptible member of the Sun staff.

Antiques, Pictures, Guns Lost When
Godwin Home Burns

Fred Godwin, former mayor of Carmel, whose home in the Carmel Valley burned to the ground last Friday night, says that he is going to rebuild as soon as possible, but he doesn't know yet exactly when work will start.

The fire, which was of undetermined origin, started after the house had been vacant for 24 hours, and was discovered by a neighbor who reported it to the caretaker, Don McKenzie. But the blaze had already reached such proportions that when members of the Tularcitos Fire Department arrived at 8:01 p.m., no one was able to get into the burning house and save any of its contents.

Loss has been estimated at $16,500, but the Godwin's also lost irreplaceable personal objects such as priceless antiques, etchings, paintings, prints, in addition to clothing, and a fine collection of guns and sports equipment.

The Godwins did not know of the fire at the time it occurred, and it was not until the following day that they learned of their loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Godwin are at present living in Carmel.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

Katherine French's First Grade Carmel Woods School

Christmas morning I just couldn't believe it. My mother took off the brown paper and I took off the Christmas paper and there was a cowboy hat! It went with my cowboy suit except it was in a box. —John Hackbart

My mother woke me up Christmas morning and I was half asleep, of course. My brother was downstairs and he began to eat his candy cane before breakfast. Baby food doesn't taste very good after a candy cane. Then he found my color crayons and took a bite of the blue.—Vicki Ann Hutchison

Under my Christmas tree I saw a little motorcycle. I had seen it at Holman's before Christmas. Santa Claus knew I wanted it and brought it to my house. Now it is locked up in the shed because a fender came off and the headlight got loose. —Lee Hare

When my mother was in Oakland and I was at Santa Cruz my dog sat on the front porch, my father said, and sounded as if he were sick, because he was so lonesome.

OUR TRIP TO THE LIBRARY

On November 17 our class went to the library. When we got there the librarian said she had a surprise for us so we were all quiet. Then she introduced Mrs. Snyder to us. She read her manuscript of a book she is writing. The name of it is Mrs. Flossie's bunnies. When she finished the librarian asked us if we liked it. We all said we did. Then we checked out books and looked at the new ones on display.

—Jana Miles

AN EXCITING AFTERNOON

We trimmed our tree a week before Christmas. We had a hard time putting it up. Three ornaments broke, that's all. The star fell off two times. It was hard work but we had lots of fun.

Sandra Ammerman

MY ANIMAL FRIENDS

I found a little, fuzzy puppy. His name is Snooks. We kept him for a week. Then his mistress claimed him and took him home. Yesterday he came to see us again.

I have a black and white cat. He is 16 years old. We try to doctor him when he gets hurt but he always takes his bandages off.

Now I am going to get a horse. Mother and I have been trying to name him. We went around to friends for suggestions. Some were Flame, Fireball, Fire Display and Col. Carcus. We decided on Flame.

—Renee Myette

MY TRIP WEST

We left Long Island on October 17. First we went through the Holland Tunnel and the Lincoln Tunnel. We drove through New Jersey and got a ferry to cross the Delaware River. We spent the night in Delaware. The next day we went through the most beautiful country I had ever seen. This was in Pennsylvania. We spent the third day in Washington, D. C. We visited the Capitol. It is a beautiful building.

Five days later we were in the Rocky Mountains. We stopped for the night and went to a movie. We saw pictures of the Rocky Mountains. Three days out from the mountains we stopped in Nevada and went to a movie again. The next day we were in California. We had a hard time getting out of Sacramento on account of the hurricane. We saw about three palm trees that had fallen.

OUR ANIMALS

We have a rat and a dog. Their names are Diana and Maggie. At night when I go out to feed Diana, Maggie is usually standing beside her cage like a statue.

One day when I went out to play with Diana I couldn't find her. I noticed some papers jiggling so went to investigate and sure enough, there she was, on my brother Don's work bench.

Wayfarer House To Be Servicemen's Hospitality Center

Wayfarer House at the Church of the Wayfarer will be used as a hospitality center for servicemen on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings, following the decision of the Church League at Monday night's meeting to recommend such usage to the executive board.

A citizen's committee met Monday afternoon upon the request of Mayor Allen Knight and was attended by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

Monday night's meeting was also a potluck supper and was attended by more than 100 members.

Mrs. Guy L. Kell was general chairman for the occasion although she was unable to attend.

The business meeting, conducted by President Carl Patnoude, was held to consider carrying out the plans for the new building. In the fund campaign last November, almost $68,000 was pledged.

Architect George Wilcox, present at the meeting, stressed the fact that he must have specific information about the needs of the various church groups before plans can be completed and building started. Mrs. Leo Miller, president of the Women's Auxiliary, was asked to appoint a committee to assemble all details for the kitchen.

Save Your Jobless Pay!

By ROSS GRAHAM

Interpretation of "good cause for quitting a job" has opened one of the greatest rackets in unemployment insurance.

"Good cause" if questioned, can be almost anything that the claims examiner for the Unemployment Insurance Commission decides.

Because there is no strict interpretation of good cause, the door is wide open for chiselers who find a sympathetic examiner.

Original intent of the unemployment insurance act was to pay unemployment insurance to the individual who was out of work through no fault of his own, was willing and able to work and was available for work.

The original act intended that the cause of employee's voluntary unemployment be directly attributed to the employer; for instance, payment of sub-standard wages, danger to the employee's health or morals or unbearable conditions.

It did not intend unemployment insurance be paid to any person who quit his employment for strictly personal reasons.

The act as at present amended does not require the cause of the individual's unemployment be attributed to his employer.

This amendment makes the act read:

"An individual shall be disqualified for benefits of (1) he has left his most recent work voluntarily without good cause, if so found by the commission." But "good cause" is not defined.

The California Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board interpreted good cause to mean "any compelling personal reason."

The individual claims examiners in making the initial determination, interpret "compelling personal reason" in the light of each individual examiner's personal opinion.

The results, as might be expected, are anything but uniform.

The door is wide open for chiselers voluntarily to quit their jobs and get unemployment insurance, which unjustly depletes the unemployment insurance fund and is estimated, as closely as possible, to drain the fund of at least $30,000,000 a year.

That's $30,000,000 a year that should be available for payment of benefits to workers honestly unemployed.

Carelessness on the part of employers is partly responsible for continuation of this situation.

If the employer of a "voluntary quit" fails to file a protest with the department within a three-day time limit, after getting notice that the ex-employee has filed a claim, and the claims examiner then decides the person had a "compelling personal reason" for quitting, and therefore clears the claim, the employer is not notified of such clearance.

This is because the employer did not file a protest. Thereafter the employer may file an appeal.

Part of the remedy for this loss to the fund therefore is the responsibility of employers, but even so, there should be strict definitions of "good cause."

However, even if employees are found disqualified for leaving the most recent work voluntarily, without a compelling personal reason, the disqualification is for five weeks maximum only.

At the end of the five-week disqualification period the worker is deemed to be involuntarily unemployed and then can file for benefits.

In this case the employer's reserve fund is not charged with the benefits, but they do come out of the general unemployment fund.

This also hits the employer, because if the general fund is depleted by such payments, the tax rate on the employer must be raised in accordance with the act.

Many of these "voluntary quits" are based on

POSSESSIONS

*I miss my Wedgwood cats;
My blue Venetian vase,
That sparkled in the sun
And had the Virgin's face.
The two old tarnished busts,
Corroded by the years;
The book-ends that I used,
Dividing hemispheres.
The teakwood box that came
Across the seven seas;
The shallow little urn
That shone with yellowed bees.
Credenzas served to hold
My linens, soft and white.
Red-dotted lamps were gay
On winter's stormy night.
The colored bowls that held
The flowers and the fruits;
The cozy little box
That hid my riding-boots.
The rugged cookie jar
With wicker-handled strength
And little Dutch girls there
With dresses of full length;
Colonial silver spoons,
The grape-topped coffee pot,
That made each party seem
As though it cost a lot.
But best of all the chair
That fitted only me
Where I could sit and dream
And evermore be free.*

SONG

*Under the green leaves in the blue shade,
down by the rockpool
Where the children played the lilies float
close to the shore,
faded already,
and to fade still more.
And the cool wind
stirs the wax leaf,
which floats down stream,
its voyage brief.*

New Volumes . . .

By H. L. PAUL

One would not expect to review that usually dull and pedestrian thing, the year book of a charitable society, as if it belonged to belles lettres. But the first year book of the Monterey County SPCA really merits such treatment. Its excellent appearance, its effect "make-up," the admirable tone and composition of the photographs and the interest of the letter press all make this an unusual year book.

The year book's committee (Noel Sullivan, chairman, Franklin Brewer, Claude Kinnoull and Harriet Keen Roberts) might well have been daunted by their plan to read and summarize the minutes (as this was the SPCA's first year book) of the 45 1/2 years of the Society's life—minutes often in long-hand. The reader might well be appalled, too, at the thought of how dull such a report could be. Instead, it is intensely interesting. Over the Years, (the title of this summary, or editorial)—sails safely between the Scylla of "an unbearably dry recital of administrative procedures" and the Charybdis of mocking at efforts because they are often small, confused and ineffective, as the beginning of most charitable work must be. There is much comedy in the report; I would not have missed this little passage or arms in the minutes for November, 1937, as reported by Mrs. Millicent Sears, at that time secretary.

"Mr. Curtis explained that he expected to sell the impounded goat now at the Shelter to the American Legion, to be tethered on the doorsteps of delinquent members. Mrs. Sears protested that it might be far from humane if some Legionnaire who was indifferent to animals or not over-gentle in manner, should come home feeling jolly, and should find the ugly creature proclaiming the man's remissness to the neighborhood, and that such a person might be provoked enough not to care to feed or water the animal, or might easily be tempted to mistreat it. Mr. Curtis said the plan was intended to arouse a lot of fun."

I find myself agreeing with the committee that these extracts "provide at times fascinating reading, throwing light, as they do, not only upon the vicissitudes of the society, but upon the changing conditions of life in over 45 years . . . that inside story, written 'between the lines,' of a human endeavor kept going through trials, conflicts, periods of apathy, as well as through times of good fortune and zeal, by the determined efforts of people who, whatever their shortcomings, believed that to prevent cruelty and promote the welfare of animals was a right, necessary and noble work."

I find myself agreeing, too, in the thanks given to so many people, past and present, from Mrs. Dobbins to Dr. MacDougal, for their work for the society. I agree, also with the conclusion:

"If there is a moral to be drawn from the trials, the battles, and the accomplishments which have filled the years, is it not, perhaps, that in any society, but especially in a non-profit, charitable organization, directors and members should establish a basis of practical cooperation. . . . Over the years much has been accomplished, more attempted; the most remains to be done. Without expecting perfection, let us hope for success, bearing in mind that achievement is more important than the struggle from which it is born; that alone of lasting value are the efforts and good will of men and women who, sharing the same purpose, strive towards its fulfillment."

The committee, however industriously they may have worked on the clerical-part of such an undertaking, wisely allowed their member who is both a professional writer and painter to make of the book that unity which alone can produce a satisfying work of art.

In August, 1949, a special meeting was called

Music Society Scores With Great Program By Gregor Piatigorsky

By EBEN WHITTLESEY

The Music Society got the new year off to a flying start, certwise, on Saturday night by presenting America's best known cello soloist, Gregor Piatigorsky in a memorable program. His musical stature is commensurate with his towering build, and one would not have been surprised to see him pick up the cello and put it under his chin like a violin.

The artist wisely opened his program with Schumann's Fantasystucke, a lyric, sentimental composition which brought out the smooth, light tone and easy flexibility of his style. The second movement was particularly moving, and colored with the unusually warm lower tones of the cello. This instrument, in less competent hands is often rather harsh and heavy in the low register, but Piatigorsky's tones are always mellow and fluent.

Bach's unaccompanied suit in C major glowed with vitality, and had a certain three-dimensional perspective that only a very superior artist can achieve within the strict limits of such classic forms. The whole performance had unusual coherence and continuity. In the bournes the artist achieved a remarkable effect as of several simultaneous voices.

The first part of the program was concluded with Milhaud's Concerto Number 1, in which the composer's rather gentle modernism was an easy transition from the classic forms. The liquid melodies sang with rich, full tones. Particularly in the last movement ist's attack was precise but unobtrusive, and his control of attenuated tones was remarkable. Particularly in the last movement the difficult cello part was brilliantly executed. Mr. Berkowitz' accompaniment was able and well balanced.

After the intermission a colorful Debussy sonata with a fine piano part was colored with stirring pizzicato passages and smoothly executed glissandi. Shading was expressed and tone well balanced. This was followed by Ravel's Piece en forme de Habanera in which rich coloring flowed through the mellow tones that only a fine cellist can produce. Both in his playing and in his selection of material Mr. Piatigorsky showed his love of tonal color and expressive phrasing. Nowhere did one feel that an exhibition of virtuosity was sought for.

Continuing in the modern vein, the artist played Stravinsky's Adagio, Allegro and Presto, Bloch's Prayer, written on the occasion of his seventieth birthday, and closed the program with Copland's Waltz and Celebration from Billy the Kid, which was dedicated to Mr. Piatigorsky. The last two formed a striking contrast between the persuasive emotionalism of Bloch's Hebraic harmonies, and the whimsical humor and red-blooded enthusiasm of Mr. Copland.

Four generous encores rewarded enthusiastic applause. These included the familiar Swan by Saint-Saens, Hora Staccato, and the provocative Prokofieff March. Mr. Berkowitz's accompaniments were extremely well played and admirably integrated with the soloist's part.

When we got back there was a package ready so we took it to the post office. I missed the bus so I had dinner with Valla and later my mother and father came for me.

Visited Maschkes

Miss Jean Friedman came from Mills College last week end to see the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament. She stayed with Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Maschke.

Mettlers Here

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mettler attended the Golf Tournament last week end and Mrs. Mettler, who is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Hoffman of Carmel, will remain for another week.

Nielsens Were Here

With the sale, please phone Mrs. down from San Francisco for the week end to see the Golf Tournament. The Nielsens used to live in Carmel and have many friends here.

Joan Carr Elected

Joan Carr was recently elected pledge chairman of the Phi Beta Phi Sorority at Santa Barbara College of the University of California.

Joan will take office at the beginning of the spring semester, beginning February 5.

Out From Kansas City

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartlett drove out from Kansas City, Missouri, to see the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament. They visited Fred's brother, Paul Bartlett of Pebble Beach, and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lofton. Richard Lofton did a portrait of Mrs. Bartlett several years ago.

Rejoins Navy

Fred M. Bloomer who has maintained a dental laboratory here for the past five years, leaves February 1 for Treasure Island as a Naval Reservist and will have the rating there of Chief Technician. During World War II he was stationed at Alaska and also at points along the California Coast. He owns a home in Oak Knoll.

Boy Scouts Had Yosemite Trip

Carl Bensberg took several boys from Boy Scout Troop Number 32 up to Yosemite for their annual winter snow camp shortly after Christmas. The boys who went were Bob Leidog, Bruce Robinson, Harry Ackley and James Edmonson.

They stayed five days, went hiking and bob-sledding, but they weren't able to do any skating because squirrels kept digging holes and the water would come through. Yosemite Park authorities didn't know what to do about it, because as soon as they filled up the squirrel holes, the squirrels would dig more holes.

Anyway, the boys had a wonderful time, and so did Mr. Bensberg.

A.A.U.W. News

There will be a section meeting of the American Association of University Women Thursday, January 25, at the home of Miss Harriet Baker, 116 Fountain Street, Pacific Grove. It will be an evening bridge and canasta session.

Members of the A.A.U.W. are reminded that the rummage sale will be held February 2 and 3. The committee needs people to assist with the sale, and they also need rummage in good condition. If you can give a few hours to help out with the sale, please phone Mrs. Bruce Elliott 7-4885.

Carmel members who have collected rummage and would like to have it picked up phone Mrs. James Lukes, 7-4875.

The rummage sale is the only fund-raising activity which the A.A.U.W. embarks upon during the year. Its purpose is to finance four scholarships for girls on the Monterey Peninsula.

The Mid-Winter Membership Teas got off to a fine start Wednesday, January 18, and more are scheduled for next week. Three were held on Wednesday. One was at the home of Mrs. Ted Durein on Lazaro Road with Miss Lucille Turner assisting Mrs. Durein as hostess. Another at the home of Mrs. Mark Raggett at Camino Real and 15th; Miss Nancy Johnson was her assistant. And the third tea was in Pacific Grove with Miss Alice Work as hostess and Mrs. Douglas Martz assisting.

Carmel Dentists Attending Meet

Three Carmel dentists will attend the annual meeting of the Alumni Association of the College of Dentistry at the University of California beginning Monday, January 21. They are Dr. Roderick M. McArthur, Dr. W. H. Trimble and Dr. Francis V. Randolph.

The role of atomic energy in dental science will be one of the main topics discussed, and leading essayist will be Dr. William W. Wainwright, professor of radiology and head of the department of the College of Dentistry at the University of Illinois.

The two-day meet will also include a report by Dr. Robert G. Sproul, president of U. C., and Dr. Willard Fleming, dean of the College of Dentistry, on the progress of a $22,000,000 building which is now being constructed on the San Francisco campus for dental and medical colleges.

Dr. Pearson Elected

The Central Coast Optometric Association, an affiliation of the California Optometric Association, held its first regular dinner meeting in 1951 at the De Anza Hotel in San Jose last night, January 18.

Among the recently elected officers who were installed during the course of the meeting was Dr. Charles Pearson of Carmel, who is the new secretary-treasurer.

Other new officers are Dr. Donald Jacques of Monterey, president; Dr. Willis P. Campbell of San Jose, first vice president; Dr. Gene R. Fuller of Salinas, director; Dr. Bert C. Hersch of San Jose, director; Dr. E. A. Cochran of San Jose, director, and Dr. A. N. Osborne of San Jose, director.

Stamp Club Auction

There will be another Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club auction in the library of Sunset School Monday, February 5. It will also be a "swap" meeting, and members are urged to bring duplicates, surplus stock, albums, money and enjoy the "hobby of kings".

This week's auction which was held Monday evening, started off with a short business meeting conducted by Colonel John R. Wright, president. Following the secretary and treasurer's reports, (Mrs. Cary C. Smead), Col. Wright asked for a vote on questions from a questionnaire. Members voted no unanimously on the question of issuance by the U.N. of a long series of stamps of values from 1c to 5c. Values which were suggested as being more practical were 1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 25c and $1.

The second question dealt with the matter of getting a delegate to attend the convention in Cairo, Egypt, but there were no volunteers.

The third question, which had to do with a stamp commemorating the 175th anniversary of the making of the flag of the United States, was vetoed; but it was agreed that the 200th anniversary should be commemorated.

Col. Wright asked that an expression of sorrow over the loss of Dr. E. T. Patee, an esteemed and active member of the Stamp Club, be entered in the minutes. The late Dr. Patee expressed an interest in the appreciation of stamp sent to hospitalized veterans, and the Monterey Stamp Club is prepared to receive at each meeting donations of stamps for veterans. Members can deposit the stamps in a special box.

After the business meeting, the auction, which was conducted by E. R. Blankenship, was held, and a table covered with first-day covers, cards and stamps in envelopes was auctioned off.

Rigdon Girls Enjoyed Japan

Margaret and Ann Rigdon, who got back from Japan last week and are staying with the Richard Loftons, say they had a wonderful time. They left for Japan last June to join their parents, Col. and Mrs. Jonathan M. Rigdon, and stayed for a month in Osaka then went on to Sendai in northern Japan.

Both the girls taught English to Japanese college girls, and Margaret says she studied a little Japanese, herself.

Margaret will stay with the Loftons for the next six months and attend Monterey Peninsula College; then she will go to the University of Illinois. Ann plans to attend the Santa Barbara College.

Dr. Faith Thomas On Trip

Dr. Faith Thomas, who owns a house on Monte Verde Street and has many friends in Carmel, sailed last week from New Orleans for a round-the-world tour on the Stella Polaris. The Stella Polaris, which takes only 150 passengers, will keep to the southern hemisphere and go through the South Pacific.

Dr. Thomas, whose permanent residence is in San Jose, is an extensive traveller and this is her second round-the-world tour. She will be gone about six months. She is the sister of Mrs. Mark Raggett of Carmel, and has visited here frequently over a period of thirty years.

Parties During Tournament

There were lots of cocktail parties, dinner parties and house parties during last week-end's annual Bing Crosby golf tournament.

Festivities started Thursday with a cocktail party at the Pebble Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Coleman, Jr. On Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. Edison Holt were guests at a dinner party honoring their week-end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Rhoem from San Francisco.

For lunch on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Morse entertained a group of visitors at the Cypress Point club. On Friday night, the Robert Stantons had a big dinner party at their Carmel Valley home. And also on Friday the George Nichels gave a buffer supper at Pebble Beach.

Visiting Morses

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Boit Morse at Pebble Beach are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Walker of La Jolla. Mrs. Walker is the former Nancy Morse.

The Morses had their annual Sunday luncheon for visitors and golfers in their home at Pebble Beach overlooking the fourteenth fairway.

Pillsbury Off To Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor Pillsbury of Pebble Beach left for Mexico last week. They plan to stop in Arizona to visit friends and then in Texas, before crossing the border and driving down the Pan American Highway. They will spend several weeks in Mexico City. They expect to return in February or March.

Two Carmel Babies Arrive

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Orville Jones, Jr., at the Peninsula Community Hospital on January 10 was young Bradley Craig Jones.

Another little newcomer: Miss Ellen Gale Seeburger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Seeburger.

Visited Kippy Stuart

Two 12-year old girls came down from San Jose last week end to visit Kippy Stuart. They were Roberta Brown and Helen Brauner.

Jules Selcer Back

Jules Selcer, who left a month ago for New England to visit his wife at Pomfret Center, returned home Wednesday, January 17, to his home in the 80 Acres. En route from New England, he stopped over in New York City.

Henleys Visited Geisens

Mr. and Mrs. Albert "Apple" Henley came down from Los Altos last week end to visit the Jack Geisens. The Geisens gave a small dinner-party in their honor Saturday night, and those present, in addition to the Geisens and the Henleys, were Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Jones, Bob Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith.

Clarkes' Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clarke entertained a small group for cocktails after the end of the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament Sunday. Among those who drifted in were Mrs. Charles Thierot from Burlingame, Count and Countess Marc de Tristan, Mr. Edwin Christensen, Robert Folsom and Barney Gould of San Francisco.

Word From Axel Adler

Axel Adler, who returned to Sweden for a visit last April, will probably return to the United States in the spring according to word Gustav Lannestock received a few weeks ago.

Axel, who lived in Carmel for several years, purchased a piece of property in Bixby Creek down the coast before returning to Sweden.

Newcomers To Carmel

Ensign and Mrs. Daniel King, who were married two weeks ago in Palo Alto, are staying in Kippy Stuart's guesthouse and will remain here during Ensign King's tour of duty at the General Line School at Del Monte.

Mrs. King, the former Metta Cook, is the daughter of Admiral A. G. Cook, U.S.N. (Ret.), who is the director of Civil Defense in San Francisco. Admiral and Mrs. King make their home in Los Angeles.

Lannestock Reading Proof

Gustav Lannestock has just received the proof this week of his translation of Wilhelm Moberg's novel, The Immigrants, which will be published by Simon and Schuster March 15.

Mr. Lannestock, who has been working on the translation of The Immigrants for the past six months, will soon start work on translating the second book in Moberg's trilogy, and is now awaiting the arrival of the first chapters from Sweden.

Wilhelm Moberg, famous Swedish novelist, went back to Sweden in December but will return to the United States soon and complete the second volume in this country.

The Immigrants, which is the story of Swedish immigrants who came to America a hundred years ago, ends with their arrival in Minnesota. The second volume will tell of their pioneer experiences there.

League Of Women Voters Meeting

The Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters is having its general membership meeting today at 12:15, a luncheon at the Bamboo Gardens.

Mrs. W. W. Douglas of Berkeley will give a talk on the international situation. The leader of the Foreign Policy Study group in the Berkeley League of Women Voters, Mrs. Douglas had made a life-time study of international affairs, and she recently represented the World Affairs Council at a State Department conference in Washington, D.C.

Following Mrs. Douglas' talk, there will be a report on the response of members to the National League's request for action on combating inflation. The National League has been urging members to write their senators and congressmen asking them to support the passage of measures for increased taxes and credit restrictions. This is intended to help put the war-efforts on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The State League has requested members to write letters to representatives in Sacramento urging them to pass the initiative to abolish cross-filing.

The price of the luncheon is $1.25 (including tax and tip), and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Bruce Spencer at 7-3686 before 12:15 today.

Howard Ingels Out Of Navy

Howard Ingels turned up in Carmel Monday, looking for his sister, Beth Ingels, Howard, who went back into the navy last September, was released from active duty last week owing to a hearing defect acquired in World War II.

His plans are uncertain, but he is thinking of looking for a defense job in San Francisco.

Honeymoon Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fischer of Felton, near Santa Cruz, spent their honeymoon here this week after their wedding ceremony there on Monday. Mrs. Fischer is the former Viola Byram of Palo Alto. Mr. Fischer is the owner of Trout Farm Inn, a place where you catch your own trout and then hand them to the chef.

Wayfarer Auxiliary

A New Year's message to the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer by Dr. E. Leigh Miller form the program for the meeting Tuesday afternoon following the monthly luncheon at the church. The speaker, referring to the discouraging world conditions today, read stimulating lines from the works of famous poets of the past century to arouse faith in a better future for mankind. Mrs. Daniel Gray gave the devotions, emphasizing the promotion of efforts for peace among the nations.

Mrs. Leo Miller, president, conducted the meeting, with Mrs. C. W. Robinson in charge of the program. Mrs. Miller reported the recommendation that Tuesday be adopted as church day, with the four different women's activities held on that day in successive weeks. A letter of thanks from the Navajo school for the Christmas boxes was read by Mrs. Howard Timbers, secretary.

The delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Guy L. Kell's committee: Mrs. O. H. Holms, co-chairman; Mrs. David Askew, Mrs. C. S. Biery, Mrs. C. T. Faw, Mrs. James Pape, and Dr. Olive Swezey.

Mrs. Pogge Will Talk

Mrs. F. H. Pogge, child psychologist, will give a talk on Basic Causes of Behavior Difficulties to Girl Scout leaders at the Monterey Girl Scout House on Tuesday, January 23, at 10 a.m.

Girl Scout leaders who have been taking the advanced training course will attend.

Ina Coolbrith Circle To Meet
The Ina Coolbrith Circle will meet Sunday, January 28, in the Assembly Room of the Public Library at the Civic Center, Larkin and McAllister streets, in San Francisco.

Stuart M. Boland, who has made a specialized study of California authors and their works, will give a talk entitled Highlights on Little Known Authors of California. Also featured on the program will be a group of Sonoma County writers and poets, sheperded by Nell Griffith Wilson. Several will read their own poetry.

A song by Beth Joerger of Petaluma, a member of the group, probably will be sung.

Other Circle news: Eunice Mitchell Lehmer, an honorary member of the group, sailed several weeks ago for a year in Europe. She plans to travel through the Mediterranean islands, then eastward, then north through the continent.

Professor Franklin Walker of Mills College, another honorary member, has had a new book published in December, The Literary History of Southern California.

Four members of the Circle found publication in a recent issue of Talaria, the Poetry Quarterly. They are Col. Cullen Jones, Edith Lodge, Helen Nivens and T. M. Atkinson.

Small Gathering At Williams

A few friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meade Williams Tuesday afternoon to have a visit with Valentine Porter Miller (Mrs. Alistair Miller). Among those present were Mrs. Jessie Lynch Williams, Lynn Williams, Harry Dickinson and Bob Aurner.

Mrs. Miller is staying with her sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilgress at present. She is the daughter of Mrs. V. M. Porter of Coastlands, and the niece of Mrs. Jessie Lynch Williams.

Nurses' Rummage Sale

The Monterey Peninsula Registered Nurses, District 26, are having their second annual rummage sale at the same location as last year. It will be held in Carmel at the American Legion Hall on Dolores near Eighth. The sale will go on from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Saturday, January 20.

Scovilles Off To Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Scoville, Jr., of Pebble Beach, and their daughter, Shelagh, left last week for Mexico City and Acapulco.

Mushrooming

Marie Short, John and Peggy Short and James Kenney went out on the mushroom hunt last Sunday, but they didn't find any. They had a wonderful walk, however.

Allens Visited

Captain and Mrs. William Young Allen, U.S.N., came down from Palo Alto to spend last week-end with Captain Allen's parents, Captain and Mrs. Archer Allen, U.S.N. (Ret.), in Hatton Fields.

Word From Noel Sullivan

Noel Sullivan spent Christmas in Rome, and is soon going on to Paris. He doesn't know yet when he will be coming home but it probably will be sometime in the spring.

Ephraim Doners Entertained

There was a party Friday night at the Carmel Highlands home of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Doner. Ephraim Doner, local artist, is currently exhibiting at the Monterey Peninsula Craft Center.

Among those present were Paul and Helen Freeley, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams, Mrs. T. M. Criley, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Millard, Dr. and Mrs. Talcott Bates, Richard and Nancy Lofton, Buck and Ruth Warshawsky, Malcolm and Louise Almack, Dorothy Weston, Evelyn Barnes, Irene Alexander, Frank and Marjorie Lloyd, Joe Balisteri and Allen and Betty Van Nuys.

Pine Needles . . .*Carmel Woman's Club Meeting

Mrs. W. C. Peterson, chairman of the card section, was in charge of the last meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club held Monday, January 15. There were 10 tables of bridge and canasta, and tea was served.

Assisting Mrs. Peterson in her duties were Mrs. Vernon Speck, Mrs. Keith Evans, Mrs. Willard McGraw and Mrs. E. H. Ewig. The committee was responsible for the table decorations as well as for the tea. Mrs. William R. Gar-guilo and Mrs. E. L. Hoen poured.

An extra day of bridge, which had been planned earlier in the season, was discontinued on account of the Red Cross classes which are to be held in the Woman's Club.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., Monday, January 29, when the Book Section will hear Miss Eleanor Bower speak on Natchez on the Mississippi: Its Legend and History.

On Friday, February 2, at 1 p.m., there will be a Dessert Card Party and Fashion Show, and two local dress shops, Lynn's, Ltd., and The Yarn Tree will exhibit.

P.E.O. Organized

Sixty members of the P.E.O. were present Saturday afternoon, January 13, when the new Carmel chapter of the sisterhood was organized. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. George A. Spencer on Lover's Point, and officers of the state organization as well as local members and new Carmel members attended.

The P.E.O., which has existed since 1869, is dedicated to increasing educational opportunities for young women and maintains an $800,000 educational loan fund which is available to any specified, worthy woman application. It supports International Scholarships, the aim being to further international understanding, and supports Cotter Junior College in Missouri. Chapter HT of Pacific Grove maintains a revolving university loan fund.

Members who participated in the dedication and preliminary ceremonial were: Mrs. E. Frank Inskip of San Francisco, state organizer, assisted by Mrs. A. Balchin, Mrs. D. Spencer, Mrs. K. E. Bain, Mrs. Charles S. Batdorff, Mrs. Dan Snell and Mrs. M. C. Wheaton of the HT Chapter of Pacific Grove.

Others were Miss Aletha Worral, Mrs. George W. Paul, Mrs. Alex Sheriff, Mrs. Spencer Hoyt, Mrs. Wilma Dyche, Mrs. Dean V.

Murphy, state president; Mrs. Kessler, state treasurer; Mrs. Bess Greer, former state president; Mrs. F. Smith, and Mrs. A. M. Olinger, a member of the Home Board.

The Carmel chapter, which is to be known as Chapter NJ of Carmel, is the 370th P.E.O. chapter in California, and its members are Mrs. J. C. Buffington, Miss Maude Campbell, Mrs. E. A. Champe, Miss Eleanor Crouch, Mrs. T. K. Farrington, Mrs. C. Galt, Mrs. John Kissinger, Miss Mildred Koch, Mrs. Anna Kohner, Mrs. C. L. Magee, Mrs. S. A. Mitchell, Mrs. W. D. Skowran, Mrs. Carol Smith, Mrs. William Steward, Mrs. A. R. Thompson, Mrs. Claire Voorhees, and Mrs. Ralph Wodden.

Carmel officers are Mrs. Galt, president; Mrs. Kissinger, vice president; Mrs. Skowran, recording secretary; Mrs. Mitchell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wodden, treasurer; Mrs. Voorhees, chaplain; Mrs. Smith, guard, and Mrs. Galt and Mrs. Voorhees, reciprocity representatives.

Carol Canoles Magaldi Visited

Mr. and Mrs. John Magaldi (the former Carol Canoles) came down from Reno to spend two weeks visiting Mrs. Magaldi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Canoles of Carmel. They took in the East West game and the Rose Bowl game while in California, and returned to Reno Monday.

The night before they left there was a gay family party at a local restaurant. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Canoles, the Magaldis, Pat Canoles and Bud Zanetta.

Steinbeck Visited

John Steinbeck and his bride of two weeks arrived here from New York Tuesday for a visit with his sister, Mary Dekker. They left for Los Angeles the following day, and after a brief visit in the Southern California city they will fly back to New York.

Marjorie Warren Here

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson (Marjorie Warren) came over from Santa Cruz last Saturday to have dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Ferro. They brought some friends with them, the Roy Rydells, and Carol Howard went to dinner at the Ferros, too.

Hilary Teague Had Birthday

There was a gala birthday party for 9 year old Hilary Teague last Friday, January 12, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Teague at Mountain View and Vizcaino. Hilary's birthday was actually Christmas Day, but the Teague's thought it would be too much to have a birthday party on top of Christmas so they put it off for a couple of weeks.

Girls who attended the party were Nancy Lofton, Sally Bishop, Lucinda Lloyd, Irene Fernandez, Kaaren Engel, Gail da Roza, Carla Budd, Judy Williams, Vivian Davis, Ann Putnam and Wendy Burnham.

Mrs. O'Neill Visiting Parents

Mrs. Edward Alex O'Neill, II, the former Gayle Winter of Carmel, has been visiting here with her husband, Captain Edward O'Neill. She celebrated her twentieth birthday with Captain O'Neill's mother, Mrs. Katherine O'Neill, and with her own parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Winter of Carmel.

Mrs. O'Neill returns soon to Kona Coast, a beautiful spot in the Islands about a hundred miles from Honolulu. But she will miss Carmel, she says, and the gayety here.

Skowrana Moving To Highlands

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Skowrana, who have been living in Carmel for the past three years, recently bought the Courvoisier house in the Carmel Highlands and are moving out there in about two weeks. They have been busy with remodelling and alterations, but hope that everything will soon be ship-shape.

Mrs. Skowrana, who is an orchid grower, does landscape gardening, and the Skowrana originally came from San Jose.

Ephraim Doner, Carmel Highlands artist, is having a show at the Monterey Peninsula Craft Center beginning today, January 19. There will be a preview from 5 to 7:30 p.m. and everyone interested is urged to come and "Meet the Artist."

This is the first of a series of "Meet the Artist" receptions scheduled at the Monterey Peninsula Craft Center which is located at 590 Calle Principal in Monterey.

Ephraim Doner, who has lived in the Highlands for the past eight years, studied in Paris at the Grande Chambre and in Europe, New York and San Francisco, but this will be his first show on the Monterey Peninsula.

He is exhibiting both oils and water colors, and his idea is to present modern art at moderate prices so that it will be possible for the average person to own original paintings.

Girl Scouts In Market For Piano, And Kitchen Range

It was decided at the last meeting of the Carmel District Girl Scouts Board of Directors to continue with the renovation of the Girl Scout House. Renovations already to date consist of an asphalt tile floor which has been laid in the upstairs room, and a thorough cleaning, sanding and waxing of the downstairs room. Roof repair is now under way, and as soon as possible the garden will be cleared.

The board has decided to replace the ancient gas range in the kitchen and would like to secure a used, fairly modern range in good condition at a reasonable price. They also want to replace the antique player piano whose discordant notes fail to blend, they say, with childish trebles.

Anyone who has a good piano for sale or a good gas range is urged to get in touch with the district chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Miller at 7-7709, or the district treasurer, Mrs. Julian von Meier at 7-4043, or write Box 2089, Carmel.

STRAY BITS . . .

Sight of the week was Flavia Flavin draped over a roof down at Bixby Landing last Sunday nailing on roofing paper. She arrived in jeans Sunday morning and announced to Frida Sharpe that she had come to work. (Frida is adding a storeroom to her cabin on the Landing).

Word came in from Lilik and Louise Schatz last week that they are still in New York and have taken an apartment. Louise is as homesick for the Big Sur as ever, keeps talking about hunting for mushrooms, taking walks in Big Creek, etc. However, they will be off for Paris soon, and thence to Palestine. Meanwhile, they are having a fine time seeing art exhibits, and visiting with Dan and Gertrude Harris who have also taken an apartment in New York.

Dan and Gertrude will be home soon, however.

One of the highlights at the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament last week end was the phenomenal appearance of Michael and Ericka Francke's antique elegantly appointed Pierce Arrow. Velvet lined, with velvet-lined glove compartments, it has a visor over the windshield and old-fashioned headlights; dates back to the early '20s. Everyone broke into broad grins when they saw it coming.

Guild To Produce Light Up The Sky

Now that the holidays are over, the Forest Theater Guild is getting ready to go into action again, and their next production will be Moss Hart's comedy, Light Up the Sky, which had a successful run on Broadway in 1948.

People interested in trying out are advised to set aside Tuesday evening, February 6, for this purpose. The place will be announced later, but anyone who misses the notice in the newspaper can get in touch with Jane Parker at 7-3256.

The production date will be decided upon after the play has been cast.

The original New York cast included Glenn Anders, Jane Middleton and Phyllis Povah. Its setting is the swank Boston Ritz-Carlton apartment of a famous actress.

PLANNING COMMISSION MEETS

In a meeting Wednesday afternoon, the Carmel Planning Commission decided to recommend to the city council that the ordinance changing the liquor zones be adopted. It was also announced that the term of Ernest Bixler expires February 5. Either a re-appointment or a new one will be made by Mayor Allen Knight and the council.

Sport Notes —

(Continued from Page Two) the tourney, Byron Nelson, the Old Pro, proved that a real champion can make a comeback. Lord Byron, showing the form which made him one of the greatest golfers of all time, shot a seven under par 209 for the 72 holes, which was three strokes better than runner-up Dr. Cary Middlecoff could do.

An 11 handicap and gobs of good luck put Phil Harris and his partner, "Dutch" Harrison, over the top in the pro-amateur competition. Phil was a lot of help to his pro sidekick and used the 11 handicap to great advantage. On the seventeenth, the unruffled Harris calmly slapped in a 45-foot putt (later at the Victory Dinner, the putt had lengthened out to 95 feet) for a win-clinching birdie. The Hollywood duo of Joe Kirkwood, Jr., and amateur Ben Gage took runner-up honors in the best ball play.

One doesn't have to be a golfer to appreciate the entertainment dished out at the Crosby tournament. The color, the celebrities, the scenery, and fine golf combine to make this event an unforgettable experience. For the baseball fans, it's Ralph Kiner, Leo Durocher, or Joe DiMaggio. Former football greats, Ernie Nevers and Marshall Duffield take their cuts along with the polished golf pros. From show business Bob Hope with a gag for every stroke, and there were plenty of them (strokes and gags). For the feminine eye, the sartorial splendor of the colorful Jimmy Demaret in purple slacks, yellow turtle-neck shirt, and a red sweater.

Yes, the Crosby tourney is the best golf show in the world and put on for the finest cause—charity. The Monterey Peninsula is grateful to Bing for helping our youngsters receive the benefits of wholesome recreation.

to answer a protest, signed by some 47 members which included, among other things, a demand for greater activity on the part of the board of directors and the members. The Pine Cone allowed a generous space in its Centennial number to an account of this meeting. The acid test of any protest will always be, can the critics do better if allowed the opportunity. All three of the directors, elected in January, 1950 (Mr. Noel Sullivan, Miss Marjorie Fontana and Dr. Ralph Weston), were signers of the protest, and several signatories were appointed to committees. That this acid test was passed, the year book reports, I think, prove, for example, the by-laws have been amended; the membership more than doubled; the income from dues (because of the new categories of membership) has increased nearly seven times; a junior membership of 300, including 13 Boy and Girl Scout Troops, Cub Packs and Brownies has been started; to them 28 lectures on the care of pets, usually with movies, have been given and Boy and Girl Scouts have been examined for the difficult-to-attain "Merit Badge"; '89 animals were treated at the free clinic, of these 19 were hospitalized free of charge for a total of 110 hospital days."

The year book is the gift of the committee to the members of the society. Members and non-members can purchase extra copies, as long as the supply lasts, from book and pet shops on the Peninsula for the low cost of 45 cents.

Junior members should look for the rules of the new contest for members under 17 years of age.

Charles Allaire

Charles Allaire, a resident of the Peninsula for the past 38 years, died Monday night in a local hospital following a long illness. A native of Cheboygan, Michigan, he was 66 years of age. He made his home with his family in Monterey until seven years ago, when they moved to Carmel.

In 1913 he established himself here as a painting contractor. He was a member of the Monterey Elks Lodge, Carmel Rotary Club, Knight of Columbus and the Holy Name Society.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Marie Allaire; three sons, Charles, Louis and Basil Allaire, all of Carmel; two daughters, Eleanor Allaire of Carmel and Mrs. Dorothy Lineberger of San Francisco; four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Klasek, Mrs. Claire Edwards, Mrs. John Durasseau, Ella and Jessie Allaire and five brothers, Will, Albert, Alfred, Leo and Louis Allaire, all residing in

The Time Has Come .

By Kippy Stuart

I'm pretty mad and several hundred Carmel residents are mad right along with me and many thousands of Californians are mad! The National Broadcasting Company has taken Albert Wilson off the air! For years now, the period of 8:30 to 9 o'clock on Sunday mornings has belonged to gardeners; coffee with Wilson has become a shibboleth. Now, all of a sudden, we are deprived of one of the most expert horticulturists in the country.

Albert Wilson is responsible for more and better gardens in California, and the need for his instructions is vital. What can we do about it? Well, what do you think would happen if the National Broadcasting Company were deluged with letters of protest... letters of appeal... letters explaining that without Mr. Wilson's guidance gardens are apt to go to pot! The trouble with people is, that when the broadcasting companies do provide us with interesting and informative programs we sit back, accept the gifts and that's all. I wonder how many grateful gardeners ever wrote the broadcasting company thanking them for sponsoring Albert Wilson? I'll let you answer that one. A broadcasting company isn't a mind reader and we all know that they have a hard time evaluating this and that that program. They put on the air what they think we want and most of the time the directors of programs are working in the dark.

Let's make our own Hooper Rating on this garden business, for each one of us, who has depended for so long on Mr. Wilson's guidance, can out-Hooper the best of them. Mr. Wilson is well fitted for his broadcasting role. His voice, with those wonderfully well rounded vowels, sings through the air waves with such accuracy that never a syllable is slurred. And does he know his business!

The Wilson program has taught us to use most of the advertised material on the market, without the courtesy of those companies sponsoring his program. Of course, he is only interested in gardener's welfare and has been gracious enough to forget the limitations of advertising ethics. Oh no. He has not mentioned any trade names; that isn't done, but graciously he has given the chemical formulas necessary for garden growth and we have had to scramble around ourselves and find the product.

So, attention California gardeners! To arms with spade and shovel! The "opportunity task" for this week is to deluge the National Broadcasting Company with appeals for the return of our good friend, Albert Wilson. Send a postal card, send a letter, send a telegram, go yourself, but for goodness sake get in there and pitch before our gardens turn into folorn orphans. We want Wilson!

Requiem mass was celebrated Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at Carmel Mission. Burial was in the family plot of the Monterey Catholic Church, with the Dorney Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Carmel Featured In Magazine Article

Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula are featured in an article appearing in the February issue of The Family Circle, written by Paul Outerbridge with photographs taken by the author.

The illustrations show Monterey Cypress, Ocean Avenue, Carmel Mission, Robinson Jeffers, Edward Weston and others. Actually, the article is more or less a history of Carmel, fairly accurate, and describing the place as a literal paradise.

trival reasons, clearly contrary to the intent of the act. A person wants to visit relatives "back east." Or he has to get to work too early in the morning. Or he is not satisfied with transportation facilities.

Alert employers usually protest claims based on such reasons.

So, ex-employees are disqualified for benefit payments.

This is a small measure of relief for the employer. He protects his merit rating and individual reserve fund, but it costs him to train a replacement, and...

After a maximum of five weeks, the claimant is regarded involuntarily unemployed and can get benefit payments anyway from the general fund, to which the employer contributes.

Even if discharged for cause, an employee can get temporary employment by another firm, work briefly and on being laid off, file a claim and draw maximum benefits anyway.

This can happen because the department sends notices of claims filed only to the last (temporary) employer. The long-term employer doesn't get to file a protest in these cases, but his individual reserve fund is charged with the benefits paid, nevertheless.

A recent amendment to the act intends to make an individual claiming benefits "to seek work on his own," instead of wholly depending upon the Department to find him a job.

But even this requirement can easily be evaded, as will be explained in the next installment.

A French Club dinner celebrating the Twelfth Night, was held at Sherrie Henderson's home Thursday night, January 11. Following the dinner, a special Twelfth Night cake was served.

In this cake was hidden a favor. The girl who found this favor was to be queen of the festivities, with the privilege of choosing her own king. The lucky girl was Barbie Berg, who chose John Fortier as the king. They presided over the evenings entertainment, requiring that each guest do some sort of stunt, which resulted in fun for all present. The guest of honor, Mrs. Johanna Doelman, was the last person to be called upon, and she asked everyone to join her in singing the Marseillaise to close the evenings activities.

Those who attended the affair were, Mrs. Elise Beaton, French Club sponsor; Gay Masten, Lillian Lee, Barbie Berg, Paula Schneeberger, Bargara McCrea, Frans Doelman, Hans Doelman, John Fortier, Ted Brand, Pat Merivale, Linda Bain, Gilbert Neill, Dennis Maher, Karen Matthiesen, Lynn Carrere, Tori Phillips, Sue McCloud, Susan Stoney and Collette Ferguson.

At an assembly, Friday, January 12, Mr. Fred Bowles of the Curtis Circulation Company, spoke to the student body, outlining the magazine subscription sales program which is now going on. The students are selling subscriptions to many leading magazines in order to obtain needed money for the yearbook fund. The drive began Friday, January 12, and will conclude Monday, January 22. The program is under the direction of Linda Bain and Edwina Brown, co-editors of the annual, who are assisted by Carole Smith, Pat Harn, Renee Vallon, Lillian Lee, Pat Finley, John King, Paula Roll-off, Sydney Tice, Babs Balzar, Nancy Vaughan, Ann Spurr, Sibyl Kocher, and Cynthia Blum.

A sports program will be held Saturday night, February 3, at the Carmel High gym, for the benefit of the Carmel Youth Center. The benefit will consist of three good basketball games: the first a Carmel lightweight game, followed by a Carmel varsity game, and concluding with the main event, a game between the Carmel Youth Center basketball team and the all-star team of Santa Barbara.

A Latin Club potluck dinner was held at the home of Pat Merivale, Tuesday evening, January 16. The members of the club gathered for the dinner and a gala evening, which was enjoyed by all. Those who attended were Mrs. Elise Beaton, sponsor of the Latin Club; Pat Finley, Mike Konrad, Bruce McCrea, Janet Huffman, Maryann Odell, Marilyn Marrs, John King, George Stebbins, Paul Bellmans, Penny Bestor, Bob Stebbins, Paul Baum, Barbara McCrea, Susan Stoney, Jane Lowrey, Paula Schneeberger, Sibyl Kocher, Diana Horne, and Alice Ferante.

Rehearsals for the Senior play Murder in a Nunnery to be held March 16, have been going on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights for some time now, and the play is shaping up well under the able direction of Mrs. Marquita Brey, drama instructor.

GIRL FOR THE HARKINS

Born at Peninsula Community Hospital on Wednesday, January 17, was Elizabeth M. Harkins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harkins.

Carroll Briggs

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Paul Chapel in Pacific Grove for Carroll Carleton Briggs, who died Sunday in a local hospital following a heart attack. He was born in Blue Earth, Minnesota, in 1901, and had been on the Peninsula since 1940.

A former resident of Carmel, he operated for a time the Carmel Drive-In Market and prior to that owned a ranch in Carmel Valley. With his family he moved to Lakeview Terrace in 1946.

He was a member of the Monterey Peninsula Realty Board, Seaside Lions Club, a past president of the Seaside Chamber of Commerce and Elks Lodge 643 of Riverside.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ruby Briggs; a son, Carroll Gray Briggs, and a daughter, Jacqueline Briggs, both of Seaside; a sister, Mrs. Mildred Fox of Altadena; a brother, Harold V. Briggs of Los Angeles and several nieces and nephews.

The Rev. Richard Bagley officiated at the services and burial was in the Monterey City Cemetery.

Chaney To Speak On Metasequoia For Carmel Adult School

Carmel Adult School will present Professor Ralph W. Chaney in The Redwoods in Time and Human Affairs at Sunset Auditorium, Tuesday evening, January 23, at 8 o'clock.

Professor Chaney will review the long journey he made into China and Japan in search of the now famous Dawn Redwood. Before 1947 this tree was known to science only from its fossils. Discovery of living trees of the 20-million-year-old Metasequoia deep in an isolated valley in China led to the amazing story which will be described. These trees are the living ancestors of California's own Sequoias. The talk will be illustrated with color photographs taken by the expedition and will cover much of the territory now in current news. It will give an opportunity to glimpse life in the interior of China today.

Doctor Chaney is a counselor and director of the Save-the-Redwoods League, and a member of the advisory board of the National Park Service; he is professor of paleontology and curator of the Museum of Paleontology at the University of California. He has had a rich experience in field work in China, Manchukuo, Chosen and Japan.
